Captured and Held Prisoner While the Work Is Done—The Crime for Which Mussel Died—Criminal Record.

Cincinnati, Dec 23—News comes from Eaton, Ohio, that citizens gathered in a body about the court house Tuesday night, and assaulting the jail broke into it and took out William Mussel, and at 8:15 o'clock had his dead body dangling from an electric light pole in front of the court house. There was an uncontrollable spirit in the crowd that overwhelmed entirely the efforts of the officers to protect the prisoner. A plan had been made to remove Mussel to some other jair Tuesday night, but the mob gathered and acted before it could be carried out.

The lynching of William Mussel was fully determined and all the details arranged Tuesday afternoon at a meeting held in the city hall, to which only trusted men were admitted, and which was made up of the heaviest taxpayers and best men of the place. ted, and which was made up of the heaviest taxpayers and best men of the place. Four of the best friends of the sheriff were datalled to peacefully capture him at the proper time and hold him prisoner. Arrangements were made for coid chisels, siedges, and rope. Soon after 7 o'clock the sheriff was captured and held prisoner in a wood-shed. Then the party, with tools, started for the jail, followed by a hooting crowd. The jail, doors were soon broken, and the leaders were quickly in Mussal's cell. He answered to his name, but when asked if he had killed Christman denied it. He refused to say anything further, but said: "If you are going to hang me, be quick about it." The men sent for some one to identify him, and, this being done, a rope was put on his neck and he was led to the electric light tower in the principal part of town, where he was again given an opportunity to confess. He declared his innocence, and asked that his body be buried, and that his coat and letters be given to his wife. The leader then gave the order to pull the rope, one end of which had been thrown over a beam of the tower and was in the hands of several stalwart men. Just then a call for silence was made, and a bush fell over the crowd in expectation of a confession. But Mussel again said he was innocence.

"Tuil the rope?" was the order, and in an instant Mussel's body was dangling in the air. At this sight the erowd gave veut to its delight by hand-clapping and cheers. The managina oxequest by fire on Tuesday night, entailing a loss of $190,000.

"Pull the rope," was the order, and in an instant Mussel's body was dangling in the air. At this sight the crowd gave vent to its delight by hand-clapping and cheers. The body was left hanging for an hour, during which time hundreds of women and children gathered about to see it. It was then cut down and given to the undertaker.

Mussel's crine was the killing of Daniel Christman, an aged and respectable farmer living near Enton, and the attempted killing of Mrs. Christman, on the night of Dec. 7.

Mussel had been employed that day by Christman to do some work, and after going to bed at night got up and went out. Christman, becoming anxious, went out after him. Mrs. Christman then saw Mussel strike her instand dead with an ax. He came to the husband dead with an ax. A Minister Charged with Attempted Rape. Philadelphia, Dec. 23.—The trial of Rev. Waido Messaros, puster of the Northwestern Independent church, on the charge of an assault upon Mrs. Mary Coulston, a member of his congregation, was begun Wednesday. Mrs. Coulston, who is the wife of a reputable merchant alleged that on June 21 iast, the Rev. Mr. Messaros came to her house and attempted to commit an assault upon her in the parlor and that her cries brought her husband, Dr. Butcher, and one or two others, who were in the house at the time, and they prevented the accomplishment of his purpose and turned the pastor over to the police. The grand jury found a true bill of indictment against Messaros charging him in the first count with assault and battery with intent to rape Mrs. Coulston.

MALARIA.

"If people could only know what a splendid medicine Simmons Liver Regulator is there would be many a physician without a patient and many an interminable doctor bill saved. I consider it infallible in malarial infection. I had for many years been a perfect physical wreck from a combination of complaints, all the outgrowth of malaria in my system, and even under the skillful hand of Dr. J. P. Jones, of this city, I had despaired of ever being a well woman again. Simmons Siver Regulator was recommended to me. I tried it; it helped me, and it is the only thing that ever did me any good. I persevered in its use, and I am now in perfect health. I know the medicine cured me, and I always keep it as a reliable 'standby' in my family."
